While I support identifying new potential sites for more parkland in Fallbrook, I oppose the loss of the ballfields in the heart of our Fallbrook community. The solution is to retain the existing established ballfields and find a different location for affordable housing. The existing ballfields are at a downtown walkable location with lighting, surrounded by three youth facilities, fire department, and sheriff station. Their loss will disproportionately impact low income and people of color that currently have easy access to the ballfields. The time needed to identify, purchase, plan, and develop new ballfields could leave the Fallbrook community without local access to ballfields for multiple years. If ballfields are lost to development, as currently planned, the County should commit to make sure the current ballfields remain a functioning part of the Fallbrook community until new youth baseball fields are developed and opened to the community. Thank you for your consideration.

The logical and most cost effective solution is to purchase back the existing established ballfields and find a replacement location for housing. That said, while I support more parkland, I oppose the way in which this transaction is taking place. The existing developed ballfields are in a perfect downtown walkable location, surrounded by three youth facilities, the fire department, and the fields have lighting. This land is NOT appropriate for a housing development, given the surrounding neighborhood, infrastructure, lack of parking and other planned nearby housing. Thank you for responding to the community. The solution to this problem is easy.

Recreation has benefits for both children and adults, the principal ones being exercise for both and socializing for all. The point is it is absolutely logical that if you take a baseball park away, it should be replaced.
