

Alternatives to Incarceration (ATI) Work Plan – May 23, 2023

This work plan describes actions the County will take in Fiscal Year 2023-24, with some actions subject to Board of Supervisors approval. The plan has been developed through careful consideration of 52 recommendations by the San Diego Association of Governments (SANDAG) in its Final Report: A Data-Driven Approach to Protecting Public Safety, Improving and Expanding Rehabilitative Treatment and Services, and Advancing Equity Through Alternatives to Incarceration (April 24, 2023). SANDAG’s recommendations and report reflect extensive analysis and synthesis of local data, community surveys, broad stakeholder input, and a review of local and national model programs that prevent justice-involved individuals from entering or reentering jail. In addition to considering SANDAG’s recommendations and analysis, County and regional public agency justice and health partners have conducted their own extensive collaborative review of local practices, programs, and key best practices, and identified local opportunities to advance Alternatives to Incarceration, both this year and over a longer time frame. The County Public Safety Group Executive Office (PSG) will work with ATI partners to monitor this plan and update it annually.

Work Plan goals

- Prioritize alternatives to incarceration as a public safety, equity, and health strategy, and evaluate rehabilitative services in these domains.
- Prevent justice system involvement by identifying and addressing individual and community needs and addressing justice system disparities and disproportionalities, including referrals, access to and use of supportive services and custody alternatives.
- Prevent people in behavioral health crisis from entering jail by providing behavioral health-focused alternative responses and settings.
- Identify booking alternatives for low-level misdemeanor drug and public conduct charges.
- Expand community-based rehabilitative options that support pretrial releases and provide sentencing options to reduce incarceration and time in jail for those who do not pose a public safety threat.
- Promote success in the community after release from custody through transitional planning in-custody and connections to community-based supportive services.
- Provide evidence-based, person-centered services that reduce recidivism, assist with basic and immediate needs, and increase individual-level health, self-sufficiency, and positive personal relationships and community connections.

Guiding principles underpinning all actions:

- Actions aim to increase equitable access to care and supportive services, provide culturally sensitive service delivery, and prevent systemic disproportionalities.
- Cross-agency collaboration and input from broad stakeholders and community members, including people with lived experience and their families, are essential.
- Supportive public services should be easy to access and located in areas with the greatest need, and effective services should be regionalized.
- A broad spectrum of coordinated services should be available to meet the basic, complex, intersectional needs of justice-involved individuals.
- Data collection and sharing among justice, health and community partners are key to meeting the complex needs of justice-involved individuals, evaluating programs, and system planning.

Time frame estimates for completion of proposed actions:

Short-term indicates service starts or actions are completed in the first half of Fiscal Year (FY) 2023-24. Mid-term indicates collaborative planning or actions precede an implementation anticipated by the end of FY 2023-24, or that products are iterative. Long-term indicates that infrastructure, funding, or significant collaboration or policy change may be needed to complete actions.
