Oh, fantastic news! It seems child traffickers might lose their convenient migrant pipeline—how utterly devastating for their despicable business model. Without these kids as their "product," they might just turn their greedy eyes toward our children. Brilliant!

Of course, we should absolutely drain every last resource to "save" these migrant kids. Let's rush to hand them all over to NGOs posthaste—nothing says efficiency like accelerating their agenda! And let's be clear: I'm not voting, period. If the registrar dares to question whether I cast my ballot, my answer will always be, "Yes, if I recall correctly"—because who's keeping track? I just really want to let the fraudsters know they've got a free ballot waiting if they feel like snagging it.

Anyone fed up with these politicians dodging voter fraud? Do what I'm doing—skip the vote and let's champion the system to flourish in its own unique way! And please, let's divert all funding to help this trafficking machine thrive—because why not? Come on, everyone, let's unite in a grand effort to fulfill Soros's lifelong dream before he kicks the bucket from old age. Teamwork makes the dream work!
