"Ignition source" needs to be further clarified. Someone having emergency flares, a lighter or a pack of matches could be interpreted as in violation.

Clarification on what is considered "storage" is needed. If someone is hiking with their dog and uses a baggie to collect their waste until they can find a trash can to dispose of it, would that be in violation?

Do these new rules apply to Federal Land?

Where is the "function of the property" defined?

Who determines when a threat to public health or safety exists?

Transfer to a shelter is provided but what if said shelter is more remote than the location they were transported from? Will there be transportation back toward civilization or are they left stranded in the boonies?

Consider clarifying the definition of camping; as currently defined in the existing ordinance means if someone puts a blanket down in a park or erects a popup for shade, they are in violation.

How is this implemented? Are there "teams" of different agencies and/or departments that will routinely circulate around known encampments as well as search out other encampments on county property? Does the county wait for "red flag" warnings or construction, etc. before clearing out an encampment? What is the process for clearing out an encampment? How will these encampments be decreased or permanently quelled? Etc, Etc...
