Ember resistant vents is good and should have been done years ago. However, the board letter says the installation of the prefabricated training tower will cost $3.9 million dollars. Sounds crazy-expensive and probably a ridiculous contingency fee. But, as the board letter says, it will have positive impacts on the business community. It also warns at least one of the 3 contracts will employ local residents – one of three - the $500K contract? We need to know more.
