People in East County need more than a plan. MTS has failed them. SANDAG has failed them. Luckily, NCTD seems to know what's going on and their service seems to be good, although with a few financial constraints. And they do it with innovative things like hydrogen busses and special transportation for the disabled.

So I think the first thing you should do is approach NCTD and see what the secret of its success is. This is a good idea if you listen to the right people.
