No. Medi-cal is a B*LLSHIT insurance. When people need to see their physicians, do you know how long the wait-list is? To see a primary care physicians its over 6 months, because per medi-cal contracts with providers they only need to see (10) patients a month. Your appts are based off your insurance. Theres NO home health agencies that accept medi-cal, because medi-cal doesnt pay. And btw mental health is NOT covered under medi-cal/hmo; this is a manipulation for money funneling scam.

Parents be familiar with state law AB 665. It allows for "A minor who is 12 years of age or older may consent to mental health treatment or counseling on an outpatient basis, or to residential shelter services, if the minor, in the opinion of the attending professional person, is mature enough to participate intelligently in the outpatient services or residential shelter services." This can be done without parental knowledge or consent.
