Good Afternoon, Supervisorss,

Among other silliness, the report says "The Housing priority area envisions a region where older adults live in safe and affordable housing that is located near goods, services, and activities...." In fact, I think that all of us would like to live in safe and affordable housing that is located near goods, services, and activities.

And the number of people served seems rather small compared to the total population.

I am glad that you recognize the importance of intergenerational social activities, because we can all learn from people with a lifetime of experience or, on the other hand, the new norms of the young set.

However my biggest concern is that these reports seem to dwell on the number of people served rather than the results - how good it got.

Regards,

Paul Henkin
