The ranges provided in attachment A look good except for foods certified organic and regenerative. That at most 2% of spending is for this is disgusting.

It has been shown many times that additive laden or GMO (genetically modified origin) foods have a negative impact on health. GMO are harder to digest. Additives (Food Dyes are a glaring example) are known to overstimulate kids. I myself am sensitive to taste enhancers such as methylsulfate.

We want to provide healthy food and promote a lifestyle where people do not get sick routinely - not cheap food.

Interesting that the Action Plan to Find, Uplift, And Cultivate Local Business through the Countywide Food Contract seems to be all about Sysco. Tells me that the big picture is to leave local small business out-of-the-picture as much as possible.

Looking at the whole, I do not think it is a good report.
