I find it interesting that on page 22, you single out the Hispanic community by promoting the 'Spanish Academy.' First, it mentions nothing about teaching the officers about Spanish basics. But to me, it is offensive that you single out Hispanic persons in this way, since there are similar opportunities to broaden community relations with every culture.

So much for equity.

Other than that, it looks like a very thorough report, although I did not see anything real specific about preventing Forster Care or Polinsky Center Abuses or Animal Abuses.
