I see a number of unneeded projects, or projects which could be reduced in scope, and too much money being spent, particularly in view of the coming recession or depression (or maybe both.) I am glad, however that FY 25-6 expenditures are relatively low.

I would also doublecheck to make sure that things are used when built and not idle for years, such as the TJ River Valley Park, which is dependent on the area being non-toxic, and having a design phase in FY 27-8 but no construction planned is not good. There are 4 or 5 projects like this.

I would also suggest checking contracts for excessive contingency fees or other giveaways.
