Dear Supervisor Fletcher-

The challenge of serving our respective communities, as they face the impact of labor shortage, inflation, recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic and economic uncertainty, has never been greater.

The resources provided by Nonprofit Solutions are invaluable right now, and our community needs them more than ever. Per the University of San Diego's 2022 "Annual Report: State of Nonprofits and Philanthropy in San Diego," San Diego County nonprofits are well positioned to meet challenging community needs and advance the quality of life in our region; however, the sector's ability to realize its full potential is most immediately threatened by the impacts of inflation and competition for qualified workers.

Over the past few years, Nonprofit Solutions has helped nonprofit employees to develop critical skills to be qualified in their roles, stay up-to-date on trends that affect the field – especially during the pandemic, and advance their careers with valuable leadership training that is leveraged for upward career mobility. In addition, Nonprofit Solutions remains a critical resource to those seeking the knowledge, skills, and funding needed to improve our community.

The Burn Institute will continue to stand with you so that the nonprofits in our community have the support they need.

If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to us. Thank you again for partnering with The Burn Institute to make essential resources available to our thriving community.

Sincerely,

Tessa Haviland, Director, Marketing and Events, the Burn Institute
