It would be good if the 6 of these items certifying or establishing a speed limit were not silly changes for a few miles per hour, but items 3-A and B are just that – 5MPH speed limit decreases even though the average speed on those segments was 39.55 MPH, under the current limit. Victory to the signmakers!

Items 1-A, an all-way stop at an intersection where the view of oncoming cars is blocked, and 5A-C which impose a uniform speed limit on 3 segments of a road, are good

I hope you are posting speed limit signs on Rainbow Heights Road, item 5-D as well as certifying it for enforcement by radar.

The one item which calls for clarity is item 5-E, the all-way stop intersection in Lake San Marcos. I think that the one stop sign there is sufficient, and that it would “enhance traffic operations” may be the law, but it is not enough of a reason. Otherwise, you could simply mandate 4 way stops at every intersection.

So I approve of all except item 5-E, which should be rejected.
