Social justice people get paid through various trickle down pathways. Unfortunately, Bush's NWO handlers are also funding Democrat pedophiles and other profit motives. So, murders, rapists, and pedophiles have been joining naive people, including children, who come here innocently, but who are often exposed to rape. from prisons in foreign countries. The county has the power to close the border.

I am a resident of district 3. The County expressed a commitment to equity and community engagement. Awarding the contract to a company unfamiliar with our community undermines these values. We request clear answers about the evaluation criteria and how this decision aligns with the Board's commitments to community collaboration and sustainability. The County must use these funds to seed long-term sustainability by supporting the development of infrastructure beyond emergency responses.

As the Immigration Legal Director at PANA, I've seen firsthand how our local nonprofits have collaborated, shifting resources and staff time to respond to the immediate needs of asylum seekers. A more comprehensive, coordinated, and long-term strategy is essential to ensure the well-being of both vulnerable populations and local organizations. The County must use these funds to seed long-term sustainability by supporting the development of infrastructure that goes beyond emergency responses.

I fully support community-based organizations partnering for the Migrant Transition Day Center. These collaborations are vital to our county and the San Diego region. Migrants deserve dignity, respect, and the necessary resources to navigate the immigration system and begin new lives. After facing numerous challenges, it's essential that we, as a community, offer them the support they need to transition with hope and humanity.

We support community-based organizations engagement for the Migrant Transition Day Center. Their role can be critical and beneficial for the county by providing their expertise and compassion, essential resources, and ensuring that migrants receive the help they need to transition into their new lives with dignity and hope.
